Joshua for consistent outstanding commitment to online learning

Harrison for cracking on with maths independently

Thank you to all the staff who have organised online learning activities for the children for the new half term. As the learning needs of children in different year groups are not all the same, there will be differences in the types of work set and the type of feedback given. If you have any concerns or questions about your child's learning, please don't hesitate to contact their class teacher for guidance and support. Thanks.
